1. The name of the Industria Aeronautica Romania at Brasov has been changed to "Industria Autonoma Romania".
2. This former aircraft factory was badly damaged by bombing in May 1943, and is now useless for making aircraft. Probably two years would be required before it could resume such production.
3. Work has begun on tractor production. Up to June 1947, 5,000 new chassis were built, but these could only be about 75% completed, because of the shortage of "SK 17", which is needed for magnetos and spark-plugs.
4. A supply of "SK 17" was obtained from Czechoslovakia, enabling the factory to complete 100 tractors, which were sent to the USSR.
5. The General Manager of the plant, Ioan Gross, and the personnel manager, a man named Bladereanu, are both reported to be members of the Communist Party. The factory employs 6-7,000 workers.

Comment: The above number of employees appears to be an exaggeration.)

9. Adjacent to the factory is an airfield, owned by the factory but at present occupied by the Soviet Air Force. Aircraft on this field in June 1947 were two regiments of YAK-9 fighters. Soviet officers use the factory as a means of access to the field.
